What a wonderful start we've had in Dyfrig in September! We began our term with a project based on the book 'God's Brilliantly Big Creation', where we explored the amazing world around us. The children thought carefully about the beauty and variety of God's creation, as well as the responsibility we all have to look after it.

We shared some brilliant ideas about how we can be good stewards of the world and each played a part in preparing a special prayer station for the whole school. This was called Whispers in the Wind. The children designed and made their own colourful windmills, which helped us all to reflect on listening to God through the calm and gentle movements of creation.

This week we enjoyed our very first class visit of the year, and what a day it was! We explored the history of Cardiff Bay and used our compasses to spot many interesting buildings, landmarks and features around us. The children impressed us with their curiosity and thoughtful observations. To top off the day, we treated ourselves to ice cream at Cadwaladers, which was well deserved after all our walking and exploring! It really was a trip to remember and has given us lots to build on in our learning.
